

Overturning NJ do not law would be both a mistake and a burden to us. The law works, despite business' thinly veiled efforts to circumvent it. It would be most consumer friendly to strengthen the law, so all unwanted/unsolicited calls could be blocked. Either that or require all phone solicitors to give out their home numbers and the time they eat with their family!